Collins Photo Club
Retiree Unescorted Facility Access To the 105 Darkroom

The Unescorted Facility Access form below allows Rockwell Collins retirees who are members of the Collins Photo Club to access the Darkroom located in Building 105.

A copy of this form must be completed and provided to Rockwell Collins Security prior to the Retiree arriving at the facility. The Retiree may enter through the 105-2 Entrance Only. A photo identification is required and the Security guard will check the list of current members prior to granting access.

It is the policy of Rockwell Collins to preclude actions or relationships which could adversely affect the Corporation. As such, the following conditions apply to unescorted access for retired Rockwell Collins personnel participating in Collins Photo Club activities:

(1) Access is provided to the club Darkroom through Entrance 105-2 ONLY for activities of the Collins Photo Club.
(2) Access is at the sole discretion of Rockwell Collins and may only be provided if the member is in good standing with Club bylaws.
(3) All employment must be reported in writing to the Club President.
(4) Any circumstance in which the interest, duties, obligations or activities of a retiree or any immediate family member may be in conflict or incompatible with the interests of the Corporation in general or with respect to any transaction must be reported in writing to the club President.
(5) This form expires on June 30, 2003 or may be revoked by Rockwell Collins Security at any time.

The following are examples of actual or potential conflicts in which unescorted access to Rockwell Collins facilities might be denied or revoked: Employment with a concern which competes with the Corporation; ownership, partnership or other interest which competes with the Corporation or its suppliers; investment or other beneficial interest by any immediate family member in a competing concern of the Corporation.
